

Information For Students With Disabilities

You can find more information about accessibility of the TOEFL® test to students with disabilities here: <http://www.ets.org/toefl/ibt/register/disabilities>

Screen Readers

All page components in the TOEFL iBT® Online Prep Course have been designed to be read by a screen reader in the correct order.

Transcripts

Students who are deaf or hard of hearing can use transcripts of the recordings used in the Listening, Speaking, and Writing sections of the tutorial. The transcripts can be accessed from the course table of contents.

When using the transcripts, keep in mind the accommodations that students who are deaf or hard of hearing can request when taking the actual test:

- A. Listening section omitted. Here students take only the Reading, Speaking, and Writing sections of the test. In the Speaking and Writing sections, audio content is replaced with transcripts.
- B. Listening and Speaking sections omitted. Here students take only the Reading and Writing sections of the test. In the Writing section, audio content is replaced with transcripts.
- C. Oral Interpreter. Here students take the whole test. The audio content in the Listening, Speaking, and Writing sections is read out from a script by an oral interpreter. The student listens to the interpreter and watches the interpreter's face for additional visual cues.
